

THE INFORMATION PROBLEM

Estate planning won't save you from estate admin

A will, power of attorney and guardianships are essential. But alone, they can't keep pace with complex, digital, invisible modern lives.

It's not about the imminence of your death. It's about the complexity of your life.

accounts utilities

subscriptions deeds wills

pensions mortgages passwords

taxes insurance memberships

investments beneficiaries

assets liabilities documents

guardianships property legacy digital life funeral bills

THE COST OF DISORDER

200-300

wasted hours

The time a family can spend untangling an estate that was never organised, chasing accounts, passwords and paperwork.

THE WILL-QUALITY GAP

< 1 in 5

wills are rated quality

Keeping the information current is the critical driver, and a clear reason to redraft.

Cameron, Ries, Anderson & Bryant (2026), advance personal planning among older adults (pre-print)

SIMPLE MATTERS

Add value

COMPLEX MATTERS

Stay close: reconnect when a redraft is needed.

OFFBOARDING

A clean handover at the end of a matter (and executors find what they need at probate).

80+ firms now offer BillWill

Organise life, so loved ones aren't left with chaos

Financial

A secure, current record of assets and liabilities, connected to bank accounts through Open Banking.

Practical

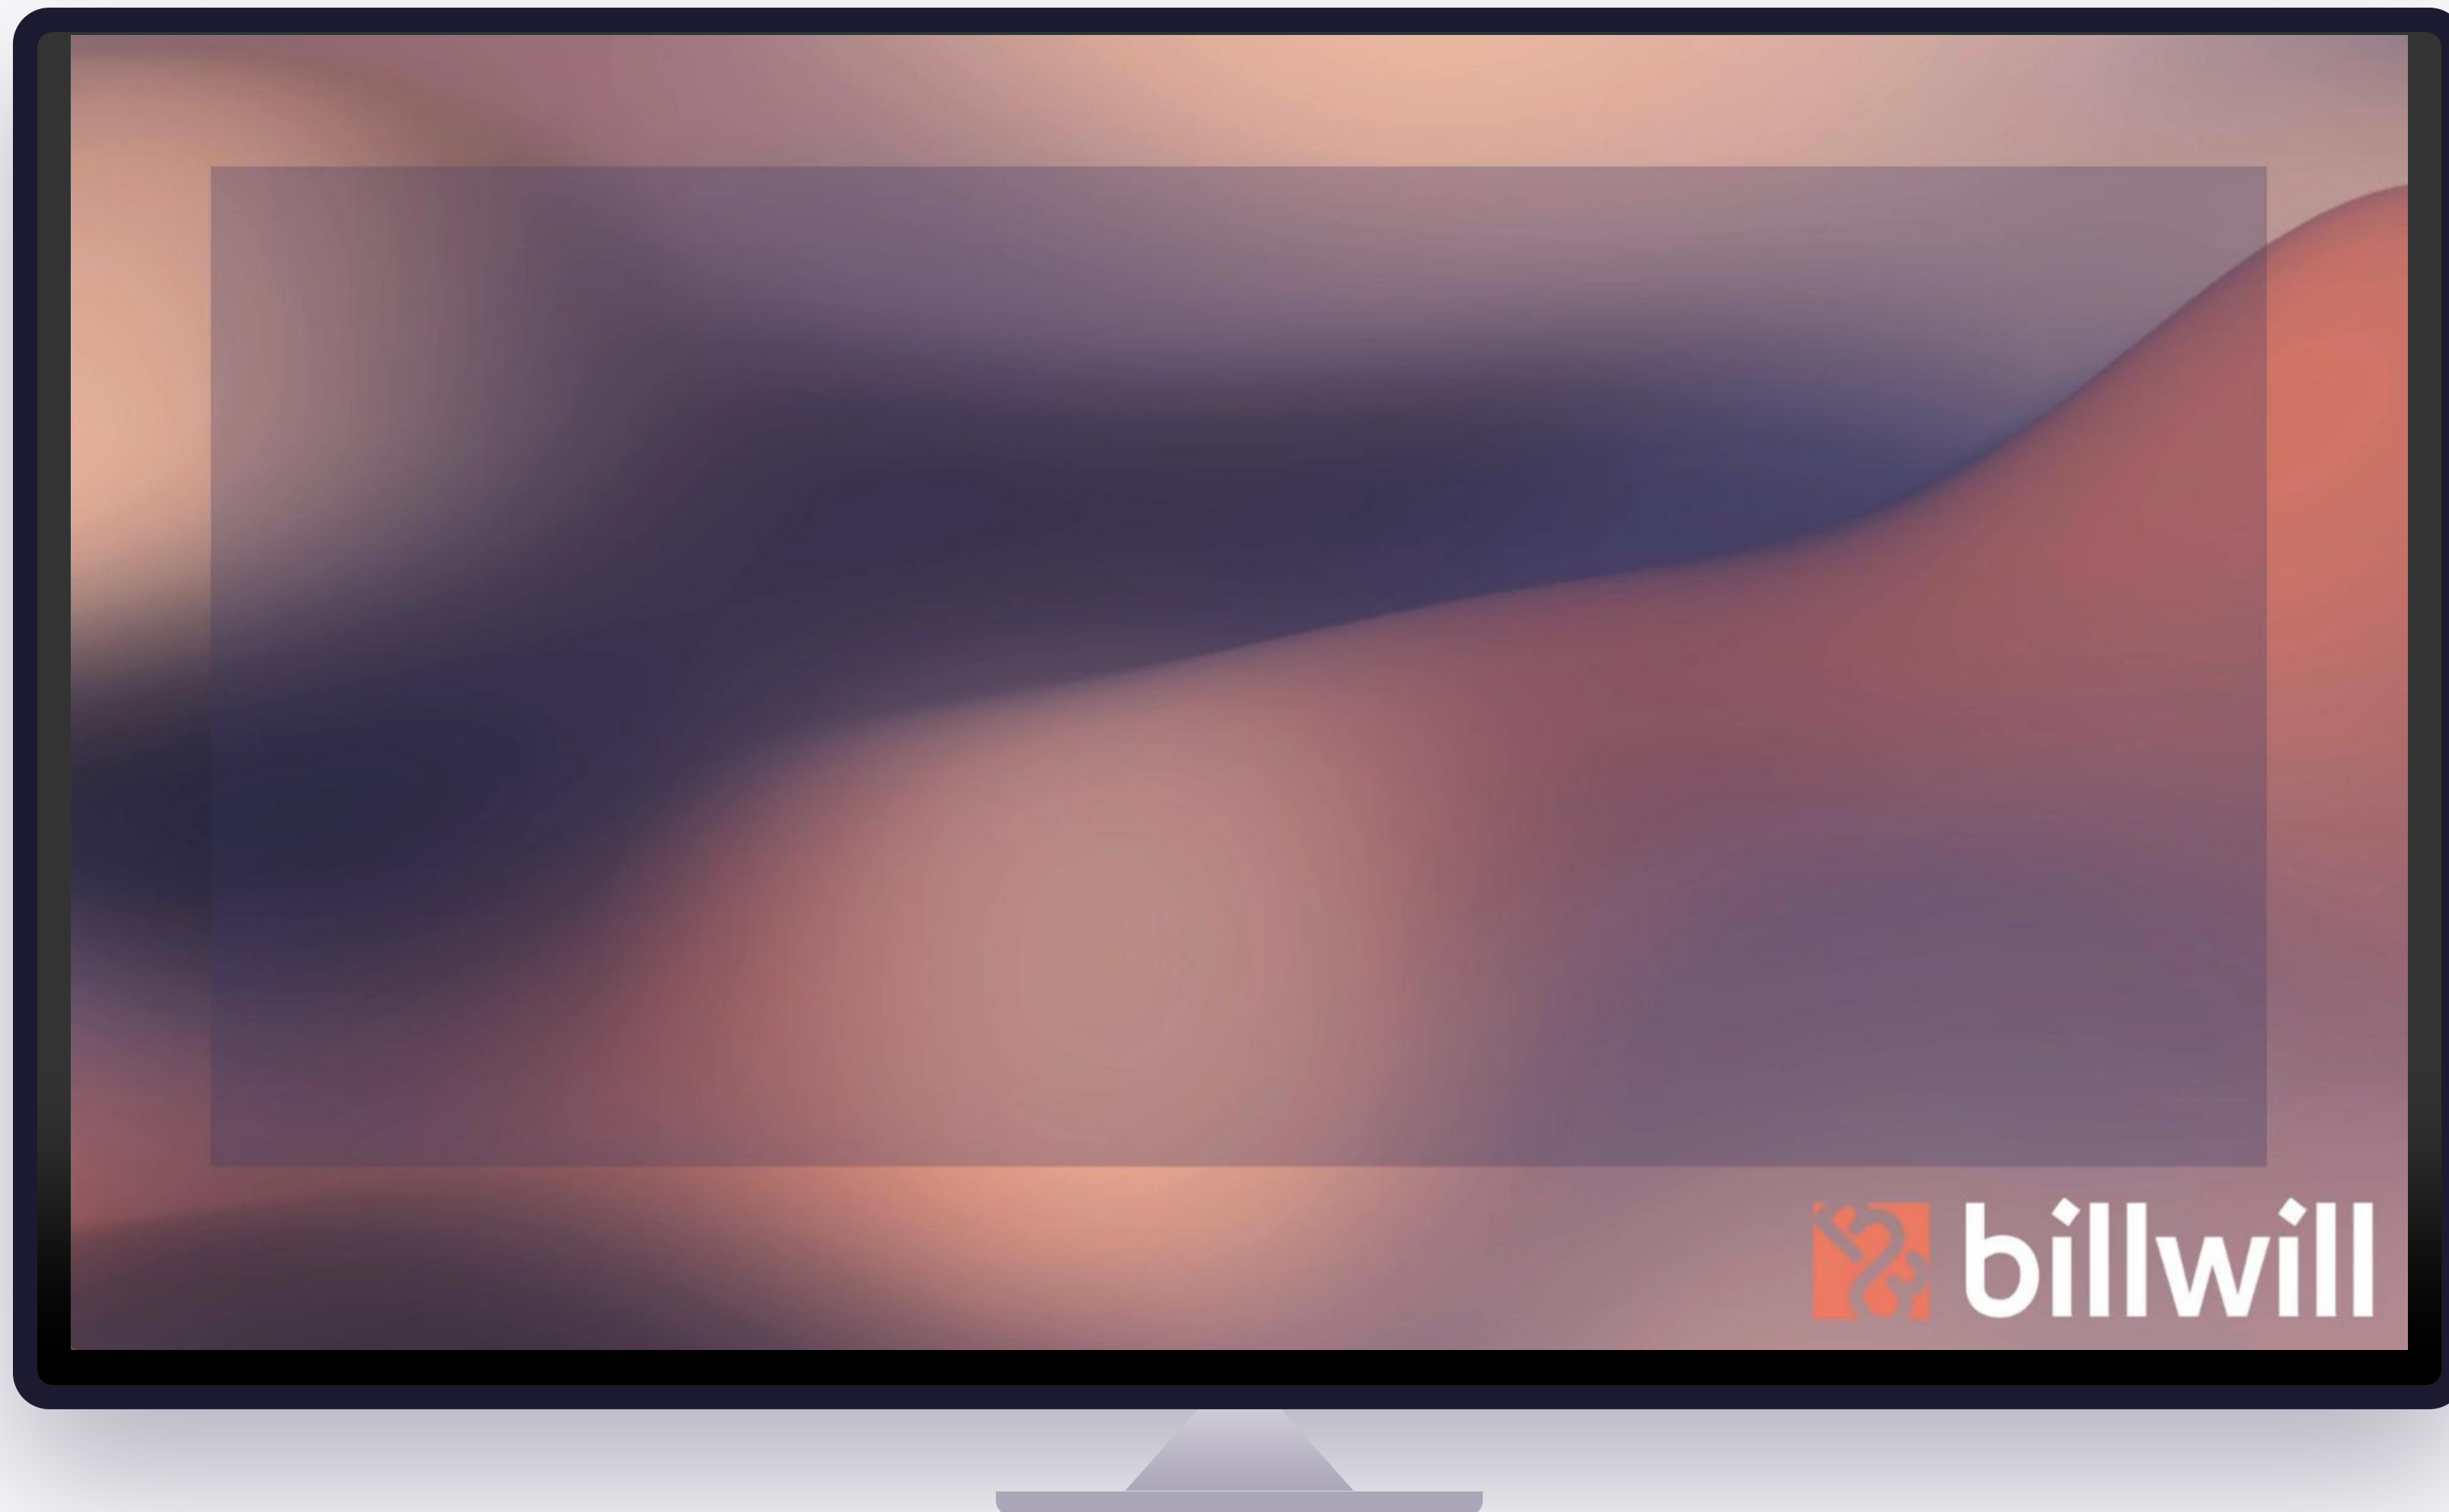

Bills, subscriptions, passwords and vital admin, organised for an easy handover.

Personal

Sentimental items, care wishes, final messages and family guidance, kept safe in one place.

Connecting bank accounts

Letters of Care to Loved Ones

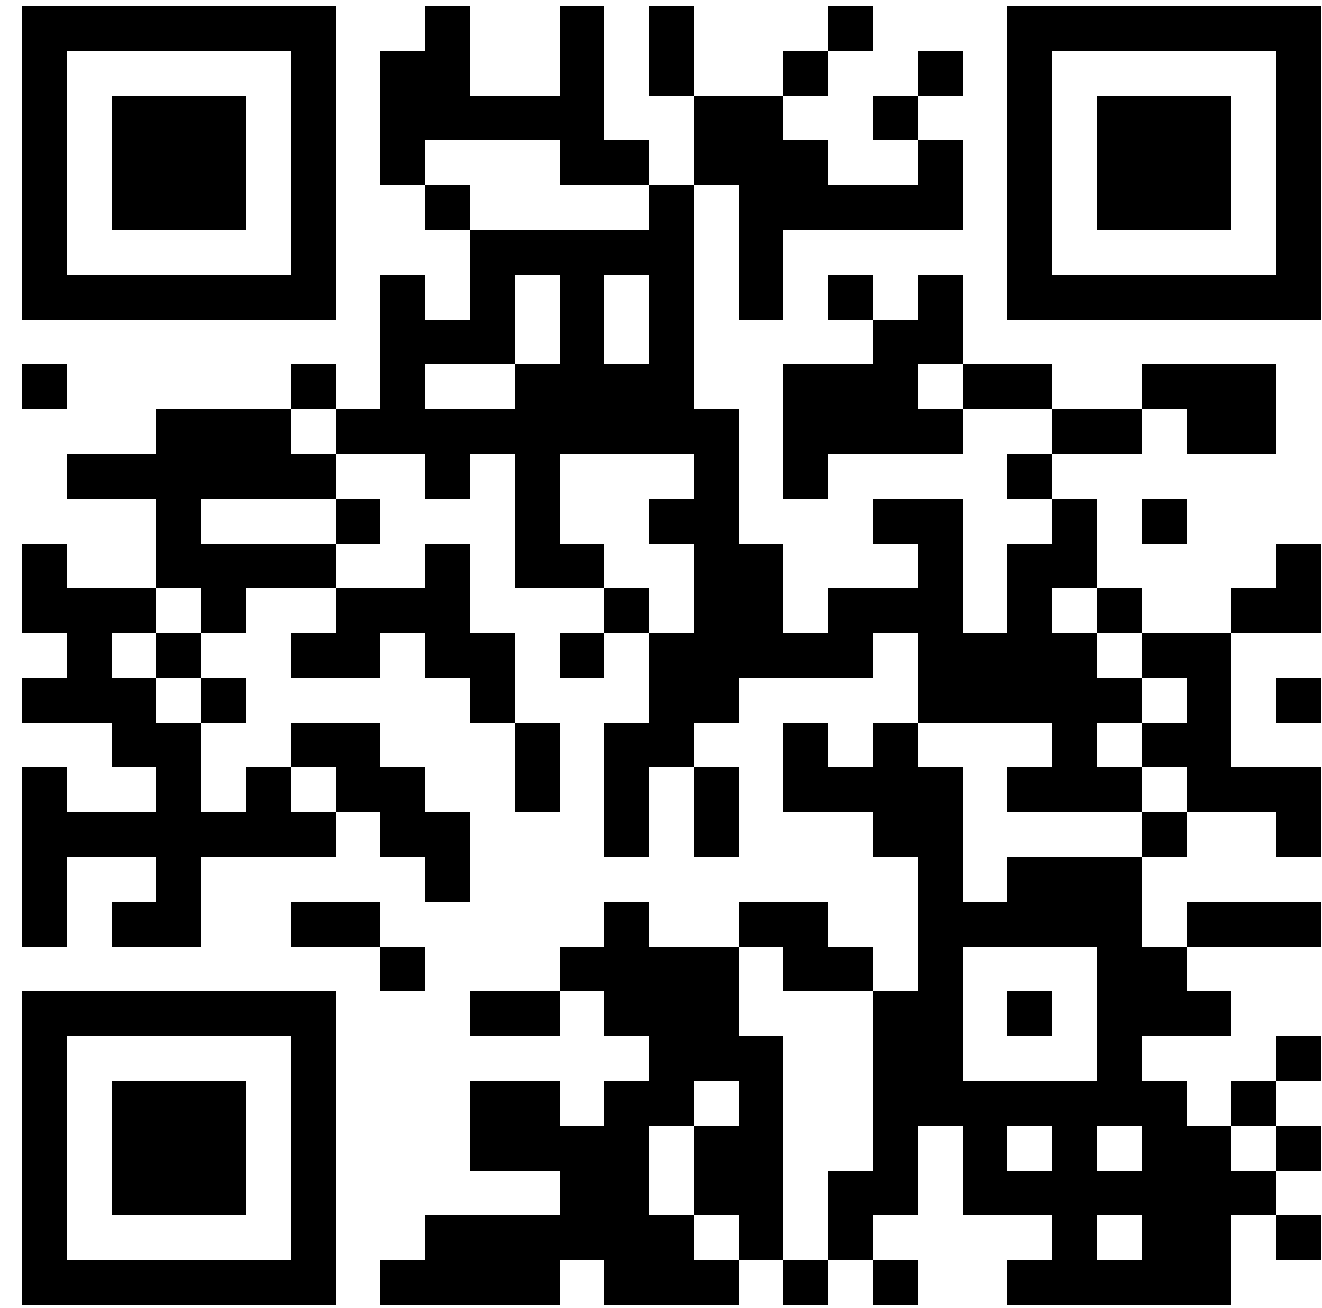

powered by

Incapacity and Estate Management

powered by

colinjowell@billwill.com.au